Brief City News

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Schell left last evening for Douglas, where during the next few days the doctor will make his regular visit.

W. H. Brophy, manager of the mercantile department of the Copper Queen Company, spent yesterday at Douglas looking after matters connected with the big store in that city. He returned home last evening.

J. F. Bowen, one of the proprietors of the Palace Livery stable, spent yesterday at Hereford looking after some stock which he has on pasture in that vicinity.

M. I. McKelligan left yesterday for El Paso, where he will spend a couple of days looking after legal matters. Constable Dennis Twomey left yesterday morning for the northern portion of the county on official business.

E. A. Torrea returned to the city yesterday, morning from Douglas where he spent a couple of days looking after his business interests.

VISIT LOCAL MINES.

Captain Thomas Houston and Thomas Collins returned to the city yesterday morning from Douglas and spent most of the day going over the properties of the Calumet & Arizona Mining Company and the Superior & Pittsburgh Company. Captain Houston, who is general manager of the Keeweenaw in Michigan, stated that there had been no excitement and that a force of about 100 men was being used pushing development work as rapidly as possible. He said that the shaft had been sunk to the 100-foot mark and that a total of more than 4,000 feet of work had been done on the property. He will return to his headquarters early next week.

PASSES THROUGH CITY.

J. W. Angus, for a long time past manager of the Cananea Stock Exchange, passed through the city last evening on his way to El Paso, from which point he will probably travel to Denver. On account of the closing down of the Greene-Cananea mine, business fell off in Cananea, and it was decided to close the exchange temporarily. Angus will spend the next couple of months visiting various points of interest in Colorado, and may take a trip east as far as Chicago.

MARRIED IN COURT.

Miss Marie Buckler of Whalen, Mich., and George Love of Bisbee were married in the city last evening at 8 o'clock P. M. by Justice Hogan. The ceremony was held in the Warren District. Miss Whalen arrived in the city on Friday from the east, the prospective groom having all preparations for the marriage some time ago.

WILL VISIT RELATIVES.

J. H. Gowing, for some time past connected with the Shattuck-Arizona Mining Company, and Ernest Pearson, who has spent the past few weeks in the district representing a big firm of engine manufacturers, left last evening for Dubuque, Minn., where they will visit relatives. It is Gowing's intention to spend the next couple of months traveling in the east visiting relatives.

PASSES THROUGH CITY.

Charles T. Connell, United States immigration inspector at the port of Douglas, passed through the city last evening returning to his headquarters in the Smelter City of Globe, where he spent several days looking into the case of several Chinese who were thought to be unlawfully in the country. Connell stated that conditions along the border seemed to be about the same as usual, the big rush from Canada to the United States having about played out.

BELL STILL AT LIBERTY.

Up to a late hour last night the local officers had been unsuccessful in the search for Frank Bell, the prisoner who cut his way out of the branch county jail on Thursday evening, but it is thought that the fugitive will be taken into custody before very long. All of the officers at Douglas have been notified, as well as the headquarters of the Arizona Rangers at Naco, so there is little chance of the man's being able to escape. It was thought last evening that Bell was still hiding either in Bisbee or Lowell, and would sooner or later make a mistake. All trains leaving the district are being watched, as the officers are determined that no possible chance of catching the man will be overlooked.

MEN'S MEETING SUNDAY.

The first men's meeting of the season will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. F. C. Reid of Phoenix will address the men at that time. The committee in charge of the meeting is arranging for some special music and a very enjoyable program will very likely be secured. All men are invited to hear Mr. Reid at this meeting on Sunday at 3 o'clock.

IS HAPPY FATHER.

James Brogan, the well known old timer, received word from Seattle yesterday to the effect that he was the father of a fine baby girl. Both mother and child were reported to be doing well.

THE TWENTY PER CENT REDUCTION SALE OF MEN'S SUITS ENDS TONIGHT.

Tonight ends one of the most successful clothing sales ever conducted by a local store. This sale has been in progress all week at the Copper Queen Store and a great number of men have profited by the reductions, for they mean a saving of $3 to $10 on every suit. Every man that has investigated has bought for he could easily see that the suits are just as advertised, every one a 1907-fall and winter style and that the reductions are genuine. Two new lines that arrived since the sale began are also offered at this same reduction. Next week they will sell at regular prices. One great advantage a man has in choosing a suit at this store is that he is not restricted to the choice of clothes from any one maker. Over a dozen of the best clothing manufacturers in America are drawn on to supply the Copper Queen Stores. It is buying in such enormous quantities that allows them to quote their regular low prices—and when a 20 per cent reduction is offered from these regular fair prices it means values entirely out of the ordinary. Today is the last day of this great sale. Their ad on page eight gives further particulars, as also the large show windows. 1098

PREPARATION AT CANANEA.

DOUGLAS, Nov. 15.—(Special.)—Messrs. Niles, Kuhn and Allen came over from Cananea yesterday in a Ford automobile and found time to examine the soil all along as the recent rains made the road choppy, and nothing but the excellent behavior of their machine made existence endurable on the way.

Mr. Niles is in charge of the power house while Mr. Kuhn is a high up mechanic in the big camp. They stated that a large force of mechanics were busy preparing the powerhouse, overhauling the smelter, concentrator and every department in and about the reduction system and mines and it was quite evident that the company was taking advantage of the shut down to prepare for heavier operations later.

It would appear that the management contemplates a general resumption of work all along the line, and that at no distant day. Coming so directly and from such a source this news is, consequently, gratifying to the public in general, and the business and laboring element in particular.

These gentlemen will return to the big camp Sunday in Mr. Niles' car after a pleasant visit to the Smelter City.

DOUGLAS FIRE ALARM.

The new fire chief, Armstrong, is getting out a new set of fire alarm whistles, which will locate the exact block in which a fire is located. This city will be divided into six wards, instead of four as at present, and the number of the ward will be denoted by the number of long whistles; then will follow the number of short whistles which will tell whereabouts in the ward the fire is. All that it will be necessary to do will be to call up central and holler fire and she will do the rest. Cards containing the number of whistles for each location will be issued in a day or two, which should be kept for reference whenever the fire whistle blows.—Douglas Dispatch.

REALISM.

Great Caesar is dead. The curtain has fallen. Plaudits read the air. "Blifkins! Blifkins!" cry a hundred voices from the pit.

But Blifkins, the eminent actor who has essayed the title role, though much called, appears not. Comes, instead, the manager, in evening coat. "Mr. Blifkins," says he, rubbing his hands together apologetically, "wends his compliments, and regrets to find his performance so realistic as to have rendered him unable to step out and make a speech so soon after dying."

"Bravo!" exclaimed sundry true friends of the drama. But the multitude are plainly displeased, considering themselves slighted.—Puck.

THE POWER OF HABIT.

Saint Peter—What are those fellows trying to do—dig up the streets? Gabriel—Yes; I guess they don't know anything better—they are contractors from New York.—Judge.

NAUTICAL FINANCE.

Mrs. Wigs (superfluously)—My husband has a beautiful yacht. I don't suppose your husband can afford such a luxury? Mrs. Digs—No; the best he can do is to hold the mortgage on the one your husband has.

"So Fade the Dreams of Men." I dreamed I had a mansion In the sky, All marbled and set with jewels, But, oh, my, How your mansions fade and crumble, And your castles take a tumble, When the clock begins to rattle: "Sun is high."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Difference. Bachelor—You spend most of your time at home since your marriage? Benedict (rapturously)—Ah, yes! A pair of blue eyes keep me there. By the way, I haven't seen you of late. Where have you been? Bachelor—At home. A pair of black eyes kept me there!

Twice Told Tales. Knox—That fellow Gabbles makes me weary. Blox—What's the trouble? Knox—Every time he makes a statement he winds up with "or, in other words," then goes all over it again.—Chicago News.

Didn't Read Them. A kind old gentleman, seeing a little boy carrying a lot of newspapers under his arm, said: "Don't all those papers make you tired, my boy?" "No; I don't read 'em," replied the lad.

At Dead of Night. Mrs. Smith (from her room, as she hears a dull thud in the hall)—What are you doing, dear? Have you struck a light? Smith (in his stocking feet)—No! I felt more like a chair.

Hair-Breadth Escape. Barber (of the loquacious kind)—Hair's getting very thin on top, sir. (No response.) Barber (again)—I say it's getting very thin on top, sir. The Victim—Well, hurry up, then. I don't want to get home bald.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

A Proclamation by the Governor.

To the People of Arizona:

Of all which is the most peculiarly American is near at hand. It seems eminently right that Thanksgiving Day should be one of our greatest holidays, for it is a national belief that our beloved and favored country is in the special keeping of Divine Providence.

Moreover the day has become hallowed in all places where Americans are to be found by our custom of family reunions for its celebration. It is thus a holiday of happy thanksgiving, a holiday of joyous meetings and a holiday in which memories of the past have a sacred part.

And because most of us have left homes elsewhere in order to establish homes in Arizona, there is, perhaps no other section of the Union in which the day is more generally welcomed or its significance more appreciated. The President of the United States has designated Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of this month, as Thanksgiving Day for this year.

Now, therefore, I, Joseph H. Kibbey, Governor of Arizona, do hereby designate THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1907, as THANKSGIVING DAY in this Territory, and I recommend to the people that they observe the day in a proper spirit and manner, in accordance with their own sense of obligation and of wholesome pleasure. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory to be affixed. Done at the City of Phoenix, the capital, this eleventh day of November, Nineteen Hundred and Seven. (Seal) JOSEPH H. KIBBEY, By the Governor, W. F. NICHOLS, Secretary of the Territory of Arizona. 1090
